MISSOULA.....

A three-sport four-year letterman at Power High School has inked a national letter of intent to attend the University of Montana next fall.

UM football coach Jack Swarthout announced Thursday that Rodney Tweet will attend the University of Montana on a football scholarship next year.

Tweet, who has lettered in football, basketball and track in each of his four years of competition on the high school level, will be tried as both a running back and as a line-backer at UM. "He is a fine all-around athlete. He is a great competitor and I'm sure we'll be able to find a place for him to play," Swarthout stated.

The six-foot 195-pounder amassed a number of individual honors while playing for the Class C Pirates. He was named to the all-conference football teams in his junior and senior years and led Power to district and divisional football titles last fall.

In addition to his gridiron accomplishments, Tweet is a two-time all-state selection as a basketball guard. Power captured the state Class C basketball championship in March.

He is the son of Ed and Elaine Tweet of Power.
